June 2010 Photo Update

June is Baby Bird Month!

Below: A Carolina Wren takes a mouthful of mealworms to feed babies. The cage around the mealworms keeps starlings & Robins from consuming all of them!

Below: What is this bird??
(check out the "horns" on it's head!)
We do know what type of bird this is...but if YOU stop by the store to identify it, you can be entered in a drawing to Win a $20.00 Gift Certificate!!

Fledgling Bluebird

Above: A family of Eastern bluebirds visits the new Bluebird feeder designed by Steve Garr and manufactured in St. Louis Missouri! The feeder is also used by Orioles, Wrens, Nuthatches, Chickadees and more! Come see the TERRIFIC video Steve has taken of Orioles and Bluebirds at this feeder!

A female Baltimore Oriole gathers mealworms to take to her babies! 6/12/10

Northern Cardinals hatching!

Below: Coming soon.....Baby Orioles at your feeders! (taken July 4, 2009)

Left- A Red-headed Woodpecker takes suet from the "suet sandwich" to it's mate nesting in a nearby snag. This week it began feeding suet to the babies!
